

North East Scotland and Northern Isles Integrated Mortuary Project Newsletter - Issue 2

Zone 1 steelwork line and levelled.

Summer 2023

Welcome to the second issue of the N.E. Scotland & Northern Isles Integrated Mortuary Project Newsletter. This issue includes a project update, more information about our project webpages, and news from our contractors.

Mortuary progress looking South from Foresterhill Road:

Steelwork progressing through zone 2:

Project Update

Construction work on site is currently well underway. The majority of groundworks and the installation of the initial section of the steel structure marks a significant milestone in the project's progress. We are pleased to report that the construction is going as planned, and we remain on track for the project's scheduled completion in the summer of 2024.

With the groundworks complete, we have now shifted our focus towards erecting the steel structure, which will serve as the backbone of the building. This not only signifies the progress made but also sets the stage for the subsequent construction activities. As we move forward, our commitment to delivering excellence remains at the forefront of our project. We understand the significance of this project and the impact it will have on our clients and the community at large. We are excited to witness the transformation of this site and will continue to provide regular updates on the progress, keeping you informed every step of the way.

gram.mortuaryproject@nhs.scot

www.nhsgrampian.org/integrated-mortuary-project

North East Scotland and Northern Isles Integrated Mortuary Project Newsletter - Issue 2

Summer 2023

Exciting Updates on the Mortuary Project Website!

We would like to tell you about the latest additions to the Mortuary Project website: brand new Frequently Asked Questions and Meet the Team pages!

Now, exploring our project and learning about our team has never been easier. Our comprehensive FAQ section provides answers to the most commonly asked questions and details about the project. You can also get to know the faces behind the project on our Meet the Team page. To access these new pages, simply visit www.nhsgrampian.org/integratedmortuary-project or scan the QR Code provided.

If you have any questions about the project that aren't answered in our FAQs, please email us gram.mortuaryproject@nhs.scot.

If you would like to be added to our mailing list to receive project updates, or if you have any questions for the Project Team, please email:

 gram.mortuaryproject@nhs.scot

Thank you and farewell to Dr Paul Brown

The project team wanted to take a moment to express their deepest gratitude for your invaluable contributions and unwavering dedication to the project over the last 8 plus, years. Your presence has undoubtedly played a crucial role in the project's success, and your departure will surely be felt by all of us. As we bid farewell, please know that your impact on this project will not be forgotten or undervalued. We wish you nothing but success on your future endeavours, certain that any team would be fortunate to benefit from your expertise. Project director Manju Patel said, "On behalf of the entire project team, I extend our heartfelt gratitude for the incredible contributions you have made throughout your time with us. Your dedication, expertise, and unwavering commitment have played a pivotal role in the success of this project. We wish you nothing but success and happiness in your next chapter."

Visit the NHS Grampian Integrated Mortuary website. Once you're there, you'll be able to see a video and a stunning artist's impression that beautifully captures the architectural design and the overall look of the new building. You can also find answers to frequently asked questions about the project and check out past editions of the newsletter. It's all there to keep you in the loop and make your visit worthwhile.

To learn more about the project and get an in-depth look at the new Mortuary's location and interior plans, simply visit our website or scan the QR code provided.

 www.nhsgrampian.org/integrated-mortuary-project